

University of Miami Law Review

Volume 10
Number 4 Miami Law Quarterly

Article 2

7-1-1956

Introduction

Russell A. Rasco

Follow this and additional works at: <https://repository.law.miami.edu/umlr>

Recommended Citation

Russell A. Rasco, Introduction, 10 U. Miami L. Rev. Iss. 4 (1956)
Available at: <https://repository.law.miami.edu/umlr/vol10/iss4/2>

This Prefatory Matter is brought to you for free and open access by the Journals at University of Miami School of Law Institutional Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in University of Miami Law Review by an authorized editor of University of Miami School of Law Institutional Repository. For more information, please contact library@law.miami.edu.

INTRODUCTION

RUSSELL A. RASCO*

It is a great privilege, on behalf of this University and its Law School, to offer to the learned public this further evidence of our continuing devotion to the cause of interamerican legal studies. Almost a decade ago, this Law School cited the vital role that this field held for our country and its lawyers. Five years ago, on the heels of the preceding year's Latin American Symposium, our Quarterly published the first contribution arising out of our exchange activities, the study by Lic. David Casares on Mexican Administrative Law.

The years immediately past have shown the results of these pioneer efforts. There are now almost a dozen of our leading law schools interested in interamerican legal studies in one way or another. In furtherance of this common task, we at the School of Law welcome the Miami Law Quarterly's initial interamerican issue.

*A.B., A.M., LL.B., LL.D., Dean and Professor of Law, University of Miami, School of Law.