INTERNATIONAL COUNCIL ON SOCIAL WELFARE 24TH INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON SOCIAL WELFARE

The International Council on Social Welfare (ICSW), founded in 1928, is an international non-governmental organization operating throughout the world to promote the cause of social welfare and social development. It enjoys consultative status with various United Nations bodies.

The ICSW holds its 24th International Conference from the 31st of July to the 5th of August 1988 in Berlin on the subject, "Law - Social Welfare - Social Development". The three terms are, however, not to be treated isolatedly, the conference shall focus on the Role of Law in Social Welfare and Social Development.

The subjects to be discussed include: Law as origin of social problems, discrimination by law, the legal position of the social worker, responsibility of the law.

Call for Papers

Any one who is able and ready to contribute—preferably on a comparative basis—to one of these subjects and submit a paper should send an abstract (one to three pages) and a curriculum vitae (informing especially about the background of experiences and qualifications) to the Chairman of the International Programme Committee: Professor Dr. Hans F. Zacher c/o Max-Planck-Institut für Ausländisches Und Internationales Sozialrecht Leopoldstrasse 24, D-8000 München 40, West Germany. The Congress languages will be English, French, Spanish, German. However, the ICSW kindly asks the applicants to inform in which of these languages papers could be read.
